THE OFFICIAL SOURCE FOR STAMP ENTHUSIASTS

2015 / Volume 20 / Quarter 1

vintage ♥ rose

IN THE SPIRIT OF VALENTINE'S DAY

this month, the Postal Service is issuing two new stamps, Vintage Rose and Vintage Tulip — small reminders that love never goes out of style.

Proving that the sentiment spans the centuries, the stamps feature artwork (shown on cover and page 3) dating to the 1600s. The elaborate floral line drawings are based on engraved plates created by naturalist artist Maria Sibylla Merian (1647-1717), whose works appeared in books intended for silk embroiderers and artists of all types.

To bring the stamps into the 21st century, USPS art director Greg Breeding worked with artist Jeanne Greco. The designs showcase the intricate drawings, but each also features a small crimson heart for a pop of color. To play up the intricate line work, the stamps were printed using the intaglio technique, a process that yields a raised, tactile quality.

More beautiful issues fill the following pages, celebrating culture, history, and nature. The Forever Hearts stamps (shown below) bring a fresh perspective to the Love series, while the latest in the Celebrating Lunar New Year series ushers in the Year of the Ram. The War of 1812: Battle of New Orleans stamp celebrates America's victory against the British in an effort to maintain independence. Two stamps — $1 Patriotic Wave and $2 Patriotic Wave — put a contemporary spin on the traditional American flag. And the elegant Water Lilies stamps feature close-up photographs of four flowers that bud on the surface of freshwater.

To make life a little easier, we're giving you plenty of options for ordering: Just use the enclosed form, visit usps.com/shop, call 1 800 782-6724, or find your favorite stamps at our eBay store — ebay.com/stamps.

A The latest addition to the Love series features a creative take on the heart shape, formed by lacy lettering that spells out the word "Forever."

A self-supporting government enterprise, the U.S. Postal Service is the only delivery service that reaches every address in the nation, 150 million residences, businesses and Post Office Boxes. The Postal Service receives no direct support from taxpayers. With 36,000 retail locations and the most frequently visited website in the federal government, the Postal Service relies on the sale of postage, products and services to pay for operating expenses. Named the Most Trusted Government Agency five consecutive years and the sixth Most Trusted Business in the nation by the Ponemon Institute, the Postal Service has annual revenue of more than $68 billion and delivers nearly half the world's mail. If it were a private sector company, the U.S. Postal Service would rank 26th in the 2008 Fortune 500.
