Last month, our President posed a question to the nine members present at the meeting:

What was the farthest you have ever gone to attend a stamp show or to buy stamps?

The furthest were: Walter said that he bought some stamps in Liechtenstein while he was on vacation and Glenn stated that he bought stamps for his collection when he served in the military in Japan. --- Now, is it all that far?

We also discussed local stamp shows. The Wingate Hotel, on Milwaukee Ave., is currently the closest stamp show. Most members liked the close proximity. Some people did not like the tight space and low ceiling in the bourse area. They also felt it was too crowded during primetime at midday.

Remember, the APS show is August 24-27 at the Stephens Convention Center in Rosemont.

April Program: Bob L will present a video that he made on “Israel and Egypt.” He took a three week, Grand Circle Tour in November - December, 2005. The tour was fantastic and Bob saw a lot of the two countries. He especially liked the Valley of the Kings, Valley of the Queens, and Valley of the Workers, where people were buried. Bob also will relate about his tour through the famous Egyptian Museum in Cairo.

It should be a terrific and interesting presentation.

In Passing:

Long time club member Paul R. Binning (1924 October 29 – 2006 February 06) of Waukegan has passed away .

He joined the stamp club in 1957 and possessed membership number 56, the lowest active number. Paul started out as a collector and progressed to becoming a stamp dealer of worldwide stamps.

Paul displayed and sold at smaller stamp shows in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin.

Treasurer’s Report: There is $678.19 in the club checking account and $1,464.13 in the savings account.

Number of paid members in 2006: 12 paid members and five life members. In 2005 there were 20 members and six life members. Our treasurer said that some active members had not paid their 2006 dues but he expected more people to pay soon.

224 North O’Plaine Road, Gurnee IL

Benjamin Franklin holds the unique distinction of being the second only to George Washington as the most popular subject to be commemorated on a postage stamp with over one-hundred stamps since 1847. His connection to the U.S. Postal Service as the first Postmaster General under the Continental Congress in 1775 has earned him a honored place in the history of the organization.

This month, the USPS issues four stamps honoring him on his 200th birthday. Depicted are four aspects of Dr. Franklin's life accomplishments:

Scott 4021

Statesman and Patriot - Franklin, born on January 17, 1706, was deeply involved in politics and civic life and enjoyed a distinguished career as a statesman. The Statesman stamp includes: a painting by John Trumbull of the signing of the Declaration of Independence; a copy of Franklin's 1754 "Join or Die" political cartoon urging colonial unity; the top of the Declaration of Independence; a pastel portrait of Franklin by Joseph-Siffred Duplessis; and the Treaty of Alliance with France, which was negotiated and signed by Franklin.

Scott 4022

Scientist - intellectually curious, Franklin was one of the greatest scientists of his day. Design elements in the Scientist stamp include a 19th-century Currier and Ives lithograph of the legendary electricity experiment with a kite; a depiction of water spouts and a "magic square" from "Experiments and Observations on Electricity"; the "three-wheeled clock" from the book "Select Mechanical Exercises" by James Ferguson; and a depiction of Franklin at a desk from a mural by Charles Mills

Scott 4023

Printer - Franklin's successful printing businesses published materials including government documents, currency, religious tracts and books. Design elements in the Printer stamp include: a portrait of Franklin in a printer's smock by illustrator Michael Dooling; a 1729 edition of the Pennsylvania Gazette, a 1733 edition of Poor Richard's Almanack; and a five-pound currency note printed by Franklin in 1770.

Scott 4024

Postmaster - elements found in the Postmaster stamp include: a graphic device used by the Boston Post-Boy newspaper; a 1775 colonial postal cover and dated postmark from Marlboro, MD; an 18th-century painting by Charles Wilson Peale after a portrait by David Martin. A reference at the bottom of the stamp refers to Franklin's personal franking signature, "B. Free Franklin, Postmaster."
