SUBJECT: Promoting the Legends of Baseball Stamps

Through the U.S. commemorative stamp program, the Postal Service continues to help preserve traditions that speak to the heart of America and to honor those people, places, and events that impact our lives.

With the issuance of the Legends of Baseball stamps, we have a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate our role as a community leader by coordinating local events to help celebrate one of our country's greatest traditions and America's favorite pastime.

Over the past year, the Postal Service has partnered with Major League Baseball to develop this pane of stamps honoring 20 of baseball's greatest players. The events surrounding the issuance of these stamps will give our customers, employees, friends, and family an opportunity to share in the pride and glory of All-Star Week this year.

The stamps will be issued July 6 in conjunction with the "Club MLB Road Show" at International Plaza in Atlanta. In addition to sales that day at Atlanta post offices and at the Club MLB Road Show, the stamps will be sold at a Postal Service retail booth at the John Hancock All-Star FanFest July 7-11. The week's festivities end with the 71st All-Star Game at Turner Field. We invite employees living in the Atlanta area, and those planning on visiting, to attend the first day of issue ceremony and to consider participating in other scheduled activities.

We believe these stamps will be very popular with sports fans, history buffs, and stamp collectors from coast to coast. Therefore, we encourage you to support local "second day of issue" events to help the Postal Service "hit one out of the park."

This edition of the Postal Bulletin contains a Legends of Baseball stamps Field Kit to use as a guide for event planning and publicity. Please note that only approved licensees listed in this kit have Postal Service approval to produce products. We thank you for your ongoing support of the stamp program.

POSTMASTERS AND MANAGERS

Solicitation of Signatures on Petitions, Polls, and Surveys

Effective June 5, the Postal Service temporarily suspended enforcement of its prohibition against the solicitation of signatures on petitions, polls, and surveys on postal property. The suspension will remain in effect through July 31, 2000.

Why was enforcement of the prohibition suspended?

A lawsuit was filed on June 1 that challenged the constitutionality of the provision. The Postal Service has suspended enforcement of the prohibition temporarily as part of an agreement with the opposite side in exchange for an expedited resolution of the case.

How long will the suspension be in effect?

The Postal Service will suspend enforcement of this specific regulation through July 31, 2000.

Does the suspension affect all of the regulations concerning conduct on postal property?

No. The suspension applies only to the single provision prohibiting "soliciting signatures on petitions, polls, or surveys" in Postal Operations Manual (POM) 124.54a. The rest of the provisions in part 124 and all other regulations remain in effect. For example:

- Soliciting signatures for a petition to place the name of a candidate on a ballot is considered to be "campaigning for election" to a public office and is prohibited.
- Soliciting contributions, political campaigning, commercial advertising, and commercial solicitation and vending activities are still prohibited, even if done in conjunction with solicitation of signatures on petitions, polls, or surveys.

Does this mean that people can set up tables to collect signatures?

No. As stated above, all other provisions of the conduct regulations remain in effect.

Will this activity be restricted to the outside areas of postal property, as are similar permitted activities, such as leafleting?

No. The list of activities that are restricted to outside areas — leafleting, distributing literature, picketing, and demonstrating by members of the public — does not include solicitation of signatures for petitions, polls, and surveys. Therefore, through July 31, soliciting signatures could be allowed inside postal buildings. However, if the activity is likely to impede ingress and egress from post offices, or otherwise tends to impede or disturb postal employees or customers from conducting postal business in the lobby area, the activity could be restricted to outside areas. Refer to POM 124.51.

Are there any circumstances under which the solicitation of signatures could still be prohibited outright at a given facility?

Yes, but only if the activity, no matter where it is conducted on postal property, violates the prohibition against disturbances, impedes the transaction of business, and so forth. Again, refer to POM 124.51.

If I'm not sure what to do, who should I ask?

Contact your field legal counsel if you have questions concerning the enforcement suspension or questions about whether a particular activity is permitted.

Legends of Baseball Field Kit

Background Information and Facts

- Through our partnership with Major League Baseball, the Postal Service will be honoring 20 baseball legends on postage stamps. The players featured on these stamps were part of last year's All-Century Team balloting. They represent the glory, tradition, and excitement of our nation's pastime.
- The stamps were illustrated by Joseph Saffold of Savannah, GA.
- The stamp designs were unveiled May 4 in a ceremony at Busch Stadium in St. Louis, MO. Cardinals greats Lou Brock and Ozzie Smith participated.
- The stamps go on sale July 6, just prior to the All-Star Game weekend in Atlanta, GA, and will be available nationwide beginning the following day. The Postal Service will be offering the stamps and special pictorial cancellations at the John Hancock All-Star Fan-Fest throughout the weekend.
- The U.S. Postal Service and baseball have something very important in common — they both have universal reach and appeal. Just as we deliver mail to every American, every day, baseball is played by children and adults on sandlots and stadiums in every village, town, and hamlet.
- Postage stamps are one of the most respected ways for our nation to pay tribute to people who helped shape American history. Stamps tell the story of our nation. These 20 Legends of Baseball stamps will spark an interest in children and adults around the world to learn more about the baseball stars of the past that built the game's foundation.
- These stamps are colorful, diverse, and help remind us that baseball is a sport that has truly stood the test of time.
- 225 million Legends of Baseball stamps were printed.
- Having present-day baseball legends join in your ceremonies shows the respect that today's players have for the history of their sport.

Events and Publicity

Overview

The Legends of Baseball stamps will be issued July 6 in Atlanta, GA, in conjunction with Major League Baseball's All-Star Week festivities. The stamps will go on sale nationwide the following day. Unveiling or "second day" events for the Legends of Baseball stamps can be held anytime throughout the year.

Local and national publicity increase commemorative stamps sales at post offices far beyond the date of issuance. There are many ways to interest local media in your Legends of Baseball stamp events. Here are some methods to capture media attention:

Local Partnerships With Major League Baseball.

- The U.S. Postal Service is partnering with Major League Baseball to help promote the Legends of Baseball stamps.
- You are encouraged to start planning second-day events in your local communities. Your area Public Affairs and Communications (PA&C) representatives are available and ready to assist you in publicizing your events. (See PA&C contact list on page 17).
- Your area PA&C office has a list of Major League Baseball and Minor League Baseball team contacts to assist you in partnering with a local team.

Event Ideas.

- Look for opportunities to sponsor events with local baseball organizations.
- Invite employees, local athletes (active or retired), local civic leaders, and politicians who have a role in baseball in your community to help sponsor an event at a local ballpark or other sporting event.
- A simple Legends of Baseball stamp unveiling in your post office lobby is always a great way to generate publicity for the stamps.
- Check with local television stations that regularly air local sporting events to see if they are interested in covering your event.
- Contact family members of major or minor league ball players and invite them to participate in your event.

Implement any of these ideas, combine them, or brainstorm with your employees and come up with ideas of your own. Using the publicity materials in this kit, be sure to publicize each and every event to your local newspaper, radio, and television stations via press releases, media advisories, and letters to the media. And don't forget to make follow-up phone calls.

Club MLB Road Show

Club MLB Road Show is a mobile marketing tour featuring two 53-foot semi trailers that transform into a baseball camp. The Road Show was launched in July 1999 and visited 27 Major League Baseball (MLB) parks, fairs, and festivals between July and October. It is scheduled to visit more than 25 major markets before the World Series this October.

A seven-member crew travels with the exhibit. The exhibit includes batting and pitching cages that allow baseball enthusiasts to emulate their favorite All-Stars. There are video games and interactive kiosks paired with an MLB-themed game, produced by Wizards of the Coast. MLB cross-licensed Rugrats merchandise adds to the tour's interactive components, much to the delight of younger fans.

For older baseball fans, the exhibit's popular and now expanded "Glove-a-Lution" display highlights the evolution of the baseball glove. In addition to authentic baseball memorabilia, there will be special appearances by MLB stars during the tour.

Pictorial Cancellations

The Postal Service has authorized pictorial cancellation designs for field use in preparing for second-day ceremonies. Post offices planning events may use only the designs depicted. Offices can offer these cancellations through mail-back service for 30 days.

Two designs are available: one that bears a team logo for events held in partnership with your local Major League Baseball team, and one with a generic All-Century Team logo for second-day or special events that don't involve a Major League team.

As a reminder, the Postal Service must endeavor to make all unusual postmarking services widely known to collectors through advance publicity to avoid limiting the availability of these postmarks. Therefore, all pictorial cancellations must be reported to Stamp Development three weeks prior to local events. Please use the announcement form on page 25 to report your use of the cancellation.

Guidelines for Finalizing Legends of Baseball Station Pictorial Cancellation Art

To finalize the Legends of Baseball Station pictorial cancellation art, insert the date and the city, state, and ZIP Code of the physical location of your event adjacent to the stamp image. Refer to the original/unfinished and final art below. Overall dimensions of the pictorial cancellation must be 3.5 inches horizontally by 1 inch vertically.

Participation of Public Officials

As with any public ceremony, you are encouraged to reach out directly to your federal, state, and local elected officials for involvement in any second-day events in your area. Government Relations representatives are available to assist you in coordinating political involvement and would be pleased to help in any way.

Before the Event.

Send a written invitation (see sample), four to six weeks before the event, to your two U.S. senators, your congressional representatives, the governor of your state, and the mayor of your community. Please include any other local elected officials you feel would be appropriate. The local postmaster should sign the invitations.

Follow up the written invitation with a telephone call to the elected official's scheduler within a week if you have not received a reply. You may need to call more than once.

Keep in touch with all elected officials who respond. If asked, provide updated information to the elected official's staff as it becomes available, (e.g., who else is participating, where and when to meet, what his or her role will be, etc.). Stress that remarks should be brief and limited to the unveiling of the Legends of Baseball stamps only.

If applicable, include names of all participating elected officials on the official program as honored guests and mention them in all media advisories.

Provide a courtesy copy of the program to the elected official in advance.

After the Event.

Send a written thank you to all elected officials who participated in the ceremony, expressing your appreciation.

Provide copies of any newspaper articles about the event. Even though they surely will see those articles on their own, you can take the opportunity to remind them of the press coverage the event received.

Provide a supply of extra cachets with the special cancellation, if applicable, to elected officials, even to those who could not attend. These make great giveaways and serve as a positive reminder of the event.

Obtain and frame a photo of the elected official posing beside the stamp image and make an appointment to present it in person, if possible. A matted, well-framed photograph stands a good chance of being hung on the wall of the official's office, again serving as a positive reminder of the event.

Keep in touch with your elected officials. Good relationships are built over time.

DMM REVISION

Mailpiece Identification for Automatable Polywrap

Effective July 13, 2000, Domestic Mail Manual (DMM) C820.4.3 is revised to remove the requirement that the polywrap product name appear as part of the marking on polywrapped automation flats. This revision does not remove the requirement that each mailpiece contain a mailpiece identification marking; it removes only the requirement that the polywrap product name appear in the identification.

At acceptance, postal employees can verify that mailers are using approved polywrap by referencing the certification letter provided by the mailpiece design analyst to the business mail entry unit.

These changes will be included in the monthly update of the online DMM available via Postal Explorer (<http://pe.usps.gov>) and will appear in the printed version of DMM Issue 56.

Domestic Mail Manual (DMM)

C820	Flats	*	*	*	*	*

4.3 Mailpiece Identification

Polywrapped flats must be endorsed to show that the polywrap has been approved by the USPS as automation compatible. This requirement may be met by printing “USPS FSM 881 Approved Polywrap” or “USPS 881 Approved Poly” or “USPS FSM 1000 Approved Polywrap” or “USPS 1000 Approved Poly,” as applicable, on the address side of the piece(s), preferably below the postage area or in another visible location on the outside of the mailpiece. The polywrap marking may be printed directly onto the polywrap material. The polywrap marking must not interfere with the delivery address or with recognition of the barcode. A list of polywrap products approved by the Postal Service appears on the USPS Web site (<http://ribbs.usps.gov>).

*DMM REMINDERUpcoming Changes to Business Reply Mail

Effective January 10, 2001, business reply mail (BRM) permit holders must comply with two new standards for barcode placement and minimum thickness (described in detail below).

These changes were part of the R97-1 omnibus rate case. These standards were first published on July 14, 1998, in the Federal Register and again on November 12, 1998, in the Postal Bulletin. All of the notices explained the reasons for these changes, notified mailers that they could begin using these standards immediately, and announced a two-year transition period beginning January 10, 1999, to comply with these requirements. This two-year transition period gives mailers plenty of time to use existing stocks of prebarcoded BRM envelopes and cards and to create new BRM pieces that meet the new requirements.

The standards described in this article can be found in Domestic Mail Manual (DMM) S922.5.0. Customers and employees can access the DMM via the Postal Explorer Web site (<http://pe.usps.gov>).

Employees are encouraged to work with BRM permit holders before the January 10, 2001, deadline to ensure that all pieces of business reply mail are in compliance with standards in the DMM. Further questions should be addressed to the district manager, business mail entry.

Barcode Placement for Prebarcoded BRM

Effective January 10, 2001, ZIP+4 barcodes that appear in the lower-right corner of letter-size BRM pieces must meet the standards in DMM C840.2.0 for the barcode clear zone and barcode placement. Mailers have until that time to use their existing stock of prebarcoded envelopes and cards.

Minimum Thickness

Effective January 10, 2001, prebarcoded BRM pieces that measure greater than 4 1/4 inches by 6 inches must meet the minimum thickness requirement of 0.009 inch.

This brings standards for prebarcoded BRM cards into alignment with standards for all automation cards (see DMM C810.2.1).

This requirement ensures that prebarcoded BRM pieces will be sturdy enough to be successfully processed on automation equipment and minimizes the potential for damaged pieces. Engineering studies have shown that cards 4 1/4 inches by 6 inches by 0.007 inch can be successfully processed on automation equipment. However, pieces larger than 4 1/4 inches by 6 inches must be at least 0.009 inch thick to be successfully processed.

This thickness requirement applies only to prebarcoded oversized postcards. Employees should remind customers that they have the option of producing a smaller card (3 1/2 inches by 5 inches up to 4 1/4 inches by 6 inches by 0.007 inch), which could be an opportunity to reduce their printing and mailing costs. Smaller cards save postage on returns, also:

- Smaller cards (3 1/2 inches by 5 inches up to 4 1/4 inches by 6 inches by 0.007 inch) are returned at the First-Class Mail card rates ($0.20, or $0.18 for qualified business reply mail (QBRM)).
- Oversized cards (greater than 4 1/4 by 6 inches) are returned at the First-Class Mail letter rate ($0.33, or $0.30 for QBRM).

BRM permit holders who are authorized for QBRM are reminded that if they change from letter rate (oversized cards) to card rate (smaller cards), then they must re-apply for QBRM authorization using PS Form 6805, Qualified Business Reply Mail (QBRM) Application, and get a new ZIP+4 barcode for the card rate pieces. PS Form 6805 is available on the USPS Web site (<http://www.usps.com>).

*DMM CORRECTIONProcessing Instructions for Nonautomation Mail and Revisions to Letter Tray Labels

The 3-digit content identifier numbers (CINs) and human-readable Line 2 tray label revision in Postal Bulletin 22016 (1-27-00), pages 10–11, did not specify a mandatory compliance date. Although mailers are encouraged to use the revised CINs and human-readable information for nonautomation letter-size mail immediately, they must comply with these changes no later than August 27, 2000.

NOTICE

Special Services New Barcoded Labels and Forms

The following information is applicable to special services labels and forms obtained from a post office, station, or branch. By now, all post offices, stations, and branches should have discarded their nonbarcoded labels and forms and replaced them with the new barcoded versions for the following: PS Form 3800, Certified Mail Receipt; PS Form 3813-P, Receipt for Insured Mail — Domestic–International; PS Form 8099, Receipt for Recorded Delivery; Label 200, Registered Mail; and PS Form 3804, Return Receipt for Merchandise. Many customers that use large quantities of these items (PS Form 3800 in particular) require that they receive them in sequential order.

Labels and forms issued between December 1999 and January 2000 were printed out of sequence; however, all items issued thereafter have been in sequential order. Post offices should swap the out-of-sequence labels and forms with those that are in sequence for customers who request them. Numeric sequence does not matter for post office use.

Note: Some customers believe that their labels or forms are out of sequence when in fact they are not. Advise these customers to ignore the check digit (last digit on the far right of the label) to determine if they are sequential. The check digit is not part of the sequential numbering.

Check Digit Calculations

As might be expected, customers that use software programs to calculate the sequential order of special services labels and forms obtained from a post office, station, or branch have to reprogram their computers to reproduce barcoded label numbers. These customers need to add the check digit algorithm to their existing software. The check digit calculations are as follows.

Barcode Numbering (20 Digits) for Postal Service–Printed Labels

PS Form 3800 and PS Form 3804 are sequentially numbered using the standard USS Code 128 Barcode System, incorporating a Weighted Modulus 10 Check Digit. The 20-digit barcode consists of the following elements:

- 2-digit (Numeric Product Code: 70 or 80)
- 5-digit (Julian Date)
- 12-digit (Numeric Sequence Number)
- 1-digit (Modulus 10 Check Digit)

Barcode Numbering (13 Digits) for Postal Service–Printed Labels

PS Form 3813-P, PS Form 8099, and Label 200 are sequentially numbered using the standard USS Code 128 Barcode System, incorporating a Weighted Modulus 11 Check Digit. The 13-digit barcode consists of the following elements:

- 2-digit (Alpha Product Code: V"A – V", A"A – V" or R"A-V")
- 8-digit (Numeric Sequence Number)
- 1-digit (Weighted Modulus 11 Check Digit)
- 2-digit (Alpha Country Code: US)

Note: These labels contain 13 digits instead of 20 digits because they are used domestically and internationally. The 13-digit restriction is in accordance with Universal Postal Union (UPU) standards.

Modulus 10 Check Digit Formula for Postal Service–Printed Labels

1. Set up a matrix for 20 positions, labeled 20 through 1, with position 1 being the most significant position in the matrix (i.e., the right-most position). Starting from the least significant position of the matrix, position 20, copy the first 19 digits of the number into the second row of the matrix.
2. Starting from position 2 of the matrix, add up the value in the even-numbered positions.
3. Multiply the result of step two by 3.
4. Starting from position 3 of the matrix, add up the values in the odd-numbered positions.
5. Add the results of steps three and four.
6. The check digit is the smallest number that when added to the result obtained in step five gives a number that is evenly divisible by 10.

Example: 0398 1260 0000 0000 001#

20	19	18	17	16	15	14	13	12	11	10	9	8	7	6	5	4	3	2	1
0	3	9	8	1	2	6	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	#
0		9		1		6		0		0		0		0		0		1		17
	3		8		2		0		0		0		0		0		0			13

$17 \times 3 = 51$
 $51 + 13 = 64$
 $64 + 6 = 70$
 Check Digit = 6

check digit

Number would read: 0398 1260 0000 0000 0016

Modulus 11 Weighted Check Digit Formula for Postal Service-Printed Labels

1. Apply weighted factors to basic number using the weighted factor 86423597.
2. Obtain the sum of this product.
3. Divide the sum by 11.
4. Subtract the remainder from 11. The result is the check digit.
5. If the remainder is zero, use 5 as the check digit. If the remainder is 1, use zero as the check digit.

Example: ?? 473 124 82# US

4	7	3	1	2	4	8	2
X8	x6	X4	x2	X3	x5	X9	x7
32	+42	+12	+2	+6	+20	+72	+14	= 200

$200 / 11 = 18$  with remainder of 2
 $11 - 2 = 9$  Check Digit

Number would read: ?? 473 124 829 US

Note: The preceding information is applicable to Postal Service-printed labels and forms (labels and forms obtained from a post office, station, or branch).

Commercially Printed Special Services Labels

The technical requirements for producing barcoded special services labels and forms are published in Publication 109, Special Services Technical Guide — Postal Forms and Labels, published March 2000. Publication 109 is available on the Postal Service Web site (<http://www.usps.com>). Click on info, then Postal Periodicals and Publications, then Publications, and scroll to Publication 109.

NEW PUBLICATIONS

Two New Guides for Express Mail Manifesting

New Publication 97, Express Mail Manifesting Technical Guide, and Publication 97-A, Express Mail Manifesting Implementation and Administration Guide, are now available online. Express Mail Manifesting (EMM) is an automated system that allows a mailer to document postage and fees for pieces in an Express Mail manifest mailing through the transmission of an electronic file. Postage is paid through the mailer's Express Mail Corporate Account using the information in the mailer's electronic file.

Publication 97 contains information for customers who are interested in participating in EMM. Publication 97-A is designed for internal use and lists the responsibilities of postal employees who are working with customers interested in establishing an EMM system or who are involved with the day-to-day administration of approved EMM systems.

Both publications are available online only. Copies will not be stocked at, nor can they be ordered from, the material distribution centers (MDCs). Employees can access Publication 97 and Publication 97-A on the corporate intranet, <http://blue.usps.gov> (click on Information, then Policies and Procedures, and then Publications). Mailers can access Publication 97 on the Postal Service Web site, <http://www.usps.com> (click on info, then Postal Periodicals and Publications, and then Publications).

630 Postal Qualified Wholesaler Program

631 Description

The Postal Qualified Wholesaler Program of the United States Postal Service establishes relationships between the Postal Service and wholesalers of international mail so that the business of both parties is increased through work-sharing and volume pricing. Any Postal Qualified Wholesaler using a representative or agent must ensure that the representative or agent adheres to the same rules and regulations of the Postal Qualified Wholesaler Program when preparing and tendering qualified international mail to the Postal Service.

632 Pricing

A Postal Qualified Wholesaler will receive rates from the Postal Service, including applicable volume rates or an International Customized Mail rate, if special circumstances warrant, for any available service offered by the Postal Service for its use in submitting bids to customers.

633 Qualifying as a Wholesaler

634.2 Preapproved Advertising

A wholesaler may state that it has been qualified as a Postal Qualified Wholesaler of the Postal Service. Any use of the Postal Service logo or any Postal Service trademark or advertising material, including letterhead and stationery, stating that the wholesaler has been qualified by the Postal Service must be approved in advance and in writing by the Manager, Postal Qualified Wholesalers.

634.3 Right of First Refusal

Postal Qualified Wholesalers must give the Postal Service the first opportunity to handle any international mail originating in the United States that it receives from its customers. This includes giving the Postal Service the first opportunity to quote prices for handling mail that is the subject of a formal or informal request for proposals or quotes from a customer. If the services of a wholesaler are needed, the Postal Service may request competitive bids from all Postal Qualified Wholesalers when it quotes prices for handling international mail that is the subject of a formal or informal request for proposals or quotes from a customer.

635.1 Approval Period

Each wholesaler will be qualified for a period of two years. At the end of that two-year period the Postal Service must again qualify the wholesaler.

635.2 Disqualification

The wholesaler will have three business days to respond in writing via Express Mail to the Manager, Postal Qualified Wholesalers that it should not be removed from the list and the reasons why it should not be stricken. The Postal Service will render its decision on the objection within five business days after its receipt.

REMINDER

Deposit of Global Priority Mail

As a reminder, Global Priority Mail (GPM) flat-rate envelopes and variable-weight mailpieces may be deposited wherever Express Mail is accepted. However, due to security restrictions, only Global Priority Mail under 16 ounces may be deposited in an Express Mail collection receptacle. Global Priority Mail 16 ounces or over deposited in collection receptacles will be returned to the sender with instructions for re mailing at the local post office.

The next printing of the Global Priority Mail flat-rate envelope instructions will be revised to reflect this weight limitation for Global Priority Mail deposited in Express Mail collection receptacles.

NOTICE

International Mail — Introduction of New Canada Post Corporation Mailing Service

On July 1, 2000, Canada Post Corporation (CPC) will launch a new southbound international mail service, Xpresspost-USA. This service will be offered in Canada to retail and commercial customers who ship documents and packages to the United States.

Upon receipt and U.S. Customs clearance, Xpresspost-USA mailpieces will be inducted into the Priority Mail processing stream for a two- to three-day service standard, like USPS domestic Priority Mail. As an added feature, Xpresspost-USA will include Delivery Confirmation.

Xpresspost-USA mailpieces will be available to Canadian mailers in a prepaid envelope, in two sizes: large (9.5" x 12.5") and small (6" x 10.25"). Mailers will also have the option of sending parcels and affixing an Xpresspost USPS-approved Delivery Confirmation label with the Universal Postal Union (UPU) standard 13-character barcode.

The address side of an Xpresspost-USA envelope will show the Canada Post postage paid permit indicia, the Expres chevron, and the Delivery Confirmation barcode.

See below and page 53 for illustrations of the Xpresspost-USA barcoded parcel label and Xpresspost-USA prepaid envelope.

Xpresspost-USA mailpieces will be dispatched from Montreal, Toronto, and Vancouver to one of the six USPS international service centers/exchange offices: New York, Miami, Dallas, Chicago, Los Angeles, or San Francisco. Mailpieces will arrive in flat-sized trays or sacks accompanied by a completed CN 38 Delivery Bill.

Undeliverable-as-addressed Xpresspost-USA mailpieces will be returned to the Canadian sender in accordance with the provisions of International Mail Manual (IMM) 782.14.

The first southbound Xpresspost-USA mailpieces are expected to arrive at USPS international service centers on July 5, 2000. Accordingly, USPS employees who handle international mail should be alerted to this new service and reminded that these items are to be handled as domestic Priority Mail.

Pictorial Cancellations Announcement

As a community service, the Postal Service offers pictorial cancellations to commemorate local events celebrated in communities throughout the nation. A list of events for which pictorial cancellations are authorized appears below. If available, the sponsor of the pictorial cancellation appears in italics under the date. Also provided, as space permits, are illustrations of those cancellations that were reproducible and available at press time.

People attending these local events may obtain the cancellation in person at the temporary post office station established there. Those who cannot attend the event, but who wish to obtain the cancellation, may submit a mail order request. Pictorial cancellations are available only for the dates indicated, and requests must be post-marked no later than 30 days following the requested pictorial cancellation date.

All requests must include a stamped envelope or postcard bearing at least the minimum First-Class Mail postage (33 cents per envelope or 20 cents per postcard).

Items submitted for cancellation may not include postage issued after the date of the requested cancellation. Such items will be returned unserved.

Customers wishing to obtain a cancellation should affix stamps to any envelope or postcard of their choice, address the envelope or postcard to themselves or others, insert a card of postcard thickness in envelopes for sturdiness, and tuck in the flap. Place the envelope or postcard in a larger envelope and address it to: PICTORIAL CANCELLATIONS, followed by the NAME OF THE STATION, ADDRESS, CITY, STATE, ZIP + 4 CODE, exactly as listed below (using all capitals and no punctuation, except the hyphen in the ZIP + 4 code).

After applying the pictorial cancellation, the Postal Service returns the envelope or postcard through the mail. Customers who want their serviced item returned under protected cover should include a larger, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

POM REVISION

Dogs, Other Animals, and Weapons and Explosives

Effective June 1, 2000, Postal Operations Manual (POM) 124.59 is revised to clarify postal facility accommodations for customers who require assistance animals. All service animals, including guide dogs and hearing dogs, should be welcomed. All signage reflecting that dogs are not allowed on the premises must be removed immediately.

These revisions will appear in the next printed version of the POM and in the online version available via the corporate intranet (<http://blue.usps.gov>; click on Information, then Policies and Procedures, then Manuals, and then scroll down to Postal Operations Manual).

[Revise 124.59 to read as follows:]

124.59 Dogs, Other Animals, and Weapons and Explosives

- a. Dogs and other animals: Dogs and other animals, except those used to assist persons with disabilities

(service animals), may not be brought on postal property for other than official reasons. A “service animal” may be any species, breed, or size and may or may not be licensed, certified, or marked as a service animal. Service animals can assist persons with a wide range of disabilities, whether a disability is visible or not, including physical and mental disorders.

- b. Weapons and explosives: No one on postal property may carry or store firearms, other dangerous or deadly weapons, or explosives, whether openly or concealed, for other than official reasons.

Note: All classified postal units must display in lobbies Poster 7, Conduct on Postal Property. No other signage referring to dogs or service animals should be posted in lobbies or on entry doors. See 125.342.

ONLINE SERVICES

USPS eBillPay: The Postal Service's New Electronic Bill Payment Service

Throughout its history the Postal Service has offered its customers choices, whether they are sending money, merchandise, or messages. We have served our customers by using the latest technology — whether pony, train, truck, or airplane. Now that technology includes the Internet.

You may have learned that the Postal Service has recently expanded its services into cyberspace with a new electronic bill payment service, USPS eBillPay. It's easy to use. It's free for six months. And it's ours.

The trusted relationship and history consumers have enjoyed with the Postal Service's traditional mail service is being brought into the electronic age. We now bring the same trusted confidence and security of the real world into the virtual world through USPS eBillPay and other electronic commerce initiatives such the electronic postmark, which we recently introduced.

In the next few weeks, you will receive a mailing at home providing additional details about USPS eBillPay. If you want to sign up now, simply go to the Postal Service's Web site, <http://www.usps.com>, and click on USPS eBillPay.

By signing up are you adding to the problem of more and more mail being diverted to the Internet? Are you helping to accelerate the demise of the Postal Service by supporting USPS eBillPay? The answer to both questions is no. With or without the Postal Service's participation in eBusiness over the Internet, our mail base will be eroded by electronic transactions. With USPS eBillPay, we're providing a service we know people want.

Part of the Postal Service's fundamental purpose is to bind the nation together through correspondence. We've been committed to providing services to support that communication, keeping up with the changes in technology and supporting fundamental improvements in communication infrastructure. USPS eBillPay and our other Internet-based services give us the opportunity to meet the needs of postal customers by expanding opportunities and increasing their choices.

When people ask you why the Postal Service is getting into the world of eBusiness, tell them, "The Postal Service brings to the Internet an element of trust and security that we already have established in paper mail."

So log on to the Postal Service's Web site, <http://www.usps.com>, and sign up for USPS eBillPay today!

Questions and Answers About USPS eBillPay

What is USPS eBillPay?

USPS eBillPay is a new online billing and payment service offered by the Postal Service in partnership with CheckFree Corporation and YourAccounts.Com, a division of Output Technology Solutions.

What can I do with USPS eBillPay?

You can pay anyone you pay by check in the United States ... babysitter, gardener, mortgage company ... anyone. Also, you can pay multiple bills at one site (or with one click) online, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. This post office never closes! You can view and pay bills automatically from anywhere. There are no stamps to buy or envelopes to address. It's a secure service. It's free for six months. And it's ours.

What happens after six months?

After your free six months, if you choose to continue the service, you pay either a flat fee of $6.00 a month for 20 payments, with $.40 for each additional payment, or $2.00 a month plus $.40 for each payment.

How do I sign up?

You can sign up online at the Postal Service's Web site, <http://www.usps.com>. Once the necessary information has been received, you will be sent an activation code via First-Class Mail. After entering this code, you can start paying bills online.

Do I have to have my own computer to use this service?

No, you can use any Internet-capable computer.

What happens if the individual or organization I'm dealing with cannot receive electronic payments?

A physical check is created and mailed to the payee (the individual or company being paid) to complete the payment.

What if I have additional questions about USPS eBillPay?

USPS eBillPay questions can be emailed anytime to usps\_ebillpay@checkfree.com.

How will I know when or if the company received my bill?

When you pay your bill using USPS eBillPay, the payee will receive the payment to post against your account. The payment will be noted in one of the following categories after you initiate payment: Scheduled; In Process (of being paid); Paid (payment received by the biller); or Canceled (you canceled the payment). When the bill shows "Paid," the biller has received your payment.

Will I be able to stop payment if necessary?

Yes. Customers will have the option of canceling payments while they are still in the "Scheduled" status.

Is there a "float" between the date that I authorize a payment to be made and the date the payment is actually deducted from my account?

No, the transaction occurs on the scheduled payment day.

Is the Postal Service accelerating the diversion of more and more mail to the Internet by creating USPS eBillPay?

No. With or without Postal Service participation in eBusiness, our mail base will be eroded by electronic transactions. Approximately $17 billion of our revenue is at risk from bills, financial statements, and payments being diverted from the mailstream to the Internet. With USPS eBillPay, we're providing a secure service we know people want and trust.

Does our USPS eBillPay service mean we are abandoning paper mail?

Absolutely not. Paper mail remains a key part of America's communication system and a key part of our business. We are continuing to work to keep traditional mail affordable and relevant. But electronic bill payment is growing. And we intend to continue to fulfill a role for the nation in the Internet age.

Stand-Up Talk

The Postal Service has launched its own electronic bill payment service. It's called USPS eBillPay.

It's easy to use. It's free for six months. And it's ours.

Customers can pay bills to anyone anywhere in the United States at any time. They can even pay bills automatically.

Does this mean we are adding to the problem of more and more mail being diverted to the Internet? No. With or without the Postal Service's participation in eBusiness, our mail base will be eroded by electronic alternatives. With USPS eBillPay, we're providing a service we know people want.

When customers ask, "Why is the Postal Service offering an electronic bill payment service? Isn't this going to hurt the Postal Service?" tell them no. The Postal Service has always offered its customers choices, whether they are sending money, merchandise, messages, and, now, electronic bill payment services.

We are not abandoning paper mail. We are continuing to work to keep traditional mail affordable and relevant. But electronic bill payment is growing. That's a fact. And we intend to play a role for the nation in the Internet age.

You will soon receive a mailing at home providing more detailed information about USPS eBillPay and how to sign up. If you already know you want to sign up, you can do so by going to the Postal Service's Web site: <http://www.usps.com>.

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS CAMPAIGN

Don't Let Savings Bonds Deadline Pass; Send Participation Notice by July 4

Postal employees are reminded that they have until July 4 to participate in the 2000 U.S. Savings Bonds Campaign.

Last year, more than 240,000 postal personnel took advantage of the opportunity to establish or continue personal savings programs by buying Savings Bonds.

Most chose the convenience of payroll deduction, selecting allotments as low as $3.75 per pay period to buy Savings Bonds with face values as low as $100.

Bonds purchased from now through October will earn 5.73 percent interest. While most people intend to hold their Savings Bonds until maturity, they may be cashed anytime after six months from their issue date.

Interest on Savings Bonds is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal taxes may apply only when bonds are cashed. And Savings Bonds purchased for children or grandchildren can be tax-free if they are used for educational expenses or if Savings Bonds interest does not exceed $700 per year.

A mailing containing Savings Bonds information and participation forms was sent to all employees the first week in June. Information also may be obtained from district Savings Bonds coordinators, by logging on to <http://www.savingsbonds.gov> on the Internet, or by calling 1-888-588-BOND.

*Through 1990 the F Fund was invested in the Wells Fargo Bond Index Fund.

The C Fund is invested in the Barclays Equity Index Fund, which tracks the S&P 500 stock index. The F Fund is invested in the Barclays U.S. Debt Index Fund, which tracks the Lehman Brothers Aggregate Bond index. Because of expenses and changing balances in the C and F Funds, their returns vary from Barclays' returns. The G Fund is invested in special issues of U.S. Treasury securities.

Future performance of the three funds will vary and may differ significantly from the returns shown above. See the "Summary of the Thrift Savings Plan" for detailed information about the funds and their investment risks.

The monthly C, F, and G Fund returns represent net earnings after deduction of accrued administrative expenses. The C and F Fund returns also reflect the deduction of trading costs and accrued investment management fees.

The C, F, and G Fund monthly returns are dollar-weighted: they reflect net earnings on the changing balances invested during the month. The C, F, and G Fund returns for the last 12 months assume, except for the crediting of earnings, unchanging balances (time-weighting) from month to month and that earnings are compounded on a monthly basis.

AT&T Corporate Digital Agreement

As a supply chain management initiative, a Corporate Digital Advantage Agreement (CDA) was signed with AT&T April 3, 2000.

The CDA offers the Postal Service a simplified method of purchasing wireless (cellular phone) service including airtime, equipment, and accessories throughout all AT&T wireless service markets. In addition, the Postal Service will receive monthly detailed information (via CD-ROM) regarding wireless costs and usage. This information will enable managers to effectively maintain and manage wireless service accounts within their areas.

Under the CDA, very competitive rate plans and equipment discounts have been negotiated. The Postal Service received an immediate 10 percent discount by consolidating over $3 million of existing AT&T billed wireless service. With this CDA, as the volume increases, so will the discount percentage. Postal employees may call AT&T to have their business and personal phones included in the CDA and receive a 10 percent discount for rate plans and a 20 percent discount for handsets. For pricing information or to place an order, call AT&T at 1-877-632-1904. An account representative will return the call within 24 hours and provide local pricing plans and promotions for your area. When one of the following AT&T affiliates is used, the same CDA discounts will apply:

- Bay Area Cellular Telephone (BATC)
- Triton PCS — Sun Com
- TeleCorp — Sun Com
- Tritel — Sun Com
- Cincinnati Bell Wireless (CBW)
- Houston Cellular

The CDA includes a sponsorship program that extends discounts to employees' families. Family members who sign up add to the corporate volume, thereby increasing discounts received. Family members will receive the same discounts as postal employees. Under the CDA, special promotions will periodically include special rebates, discounts, and free handsets. Postal employees can obtain the 10 percent monthly discount on their existing AT&T wireless service account by calling 1-800-388-3235 and referencing foundation account number 10297.

Headquarters Purchasing (the supply management telecom team) continues to gather data and sourcing information in order to identify additional competitive wireless account opportunities that will provide the best value for the Postal Service.

FEDSTRIP Address Activity Code Assignment and Maintenance

The Federal Standard Requisitioning and Issue Procedures (FEDSTRIP) address activity code is used for acquisition of many commonly used products from internal postal organizations (i.e., material distribution centers) and external suppliers such as Boise Cascade Office Products, which has a national strategic partnership with the Postal Service. Incomplete and inaccurate addresses delay the delivery of orders and increase costs to the Postal Service.

FEDSTRIP holders are responsible for ensuring that the FEDSTRIP address, finance number, and budget authorization (B/A) code data are accurate, complete, and maintained in a continuously current manner. The address must meet postal addressing standards as outlined in Publication 28, Postal Addressing Standards, and must be able to meet the Coding Accuracy Support System (CASS) certification requirements.

Field Installations

Prior to submitting requests to the district material management specialist for a new FEDSTRIP (or to change the address for an existing FEDSTRIP), field installations must verify that the address is valid in the Address Management System (AMS) Automated Data Collection System (ADCS) by contacting the appropriate district address management specialist.

Headquarters/Headquarters-Related Field Offices

Submit new FEDSTRIP assignments and changes to existing FEDSTRIPs via cc:Mail to Larry A. Browne at Headquarters, providing the following information for each request:

- Finance number.
- Budget authorization code (B/A).
- Complete address to include:
  - (1) Organization name.
  - (2) Street address (include room number).
  - (3) City, state, and ZIP+4.
  - (4) Point of contact name, area code, and telephone number.

Prior to submitting requests to Larry A. Browne, Headquarters and Headquarters-related field offices must validate the address and ZIP+4 using the Address List Management System (ALMS) and ZIP+4 database on the corporate intranet at <http://alms.usps.gov>. If the address or ZIP+4 match is not found, offices must contact the National Customer Support Center at 1-800-331-5746, ext. 4438, and they will make the correction.

Postal Inspection Service Offices

All Postal Inspection Service offices must submit their FEDSTRIP requests as directed by Sylvia G. Parrott, Headquarters, Postal Inspection Service.

Military Post Offices

All military post offices must submit their FEDSTRIP requests as directed by the Military Postal Service Agency.
